

Communists Call For Recess In Cease-Fire Negotiations

(By The Associated Press)
MUNSAN, Korea — (AP) — Red China's two armistice negotiators took the leading role from the North Koreans for the first time at Kaesong Saturday and obtained a recess until July 25.
The Chinese, hitherto staying in the background, began calling the signals after the Allies firmly refused to include the subject of withdrawing United Nations troops from Korea on the proposed agenda.
An Allied staff officer said that at one point the Chinese Red's whispered conferences interrupted a statement by North Korean Gen. Nam Il, the chief Red delegate.
The Reds said they wanted the recess "to enable both sides to study the proposals thus far presented."

Return Monday
A Peiping radio broadcast Saturday night said the talks were recessed upon the question of whether foreign troops should be withdrawn from Korea.
The Chinese Red broadcast, monitored in Tokyo, said "both sides" had to have more time "to reconsider this problem."
After today's meeting Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief United Nations negotiator, flew to Tokyo to

No Big Attacks Begun In Korea

Sharp Clashes Occur At Iron Triangle
U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea — (AP) — Communist forces today continued to bolster frontline positions but there were no indications an attack was imminent.
An Eighth Army spokesman said that "all along the front the enemy now has probably as much as he had for the April 29 offensive."

Chinese Nationalist patrols stabbed close to main Red lines and met blistering attacks. Several with-drawing. There were many short, sharp clashes, especially on the central front and eastward.
There were two small clashes west of Chorwon, western anchor of the onetime Communist "iron triangle" buildup.
United Nations patrols moved about the former assembly area without contact and returned to their own lines without menacing the Red-held city of Pyongyang, northern tip of the triangle.
East of the triangle, sharp close-up actions were frequent and bitter.

Airliner Missing On Alaskan Flight
VANCOUVER, B. C. — (AP) — A Korean airlift plane carrying three United Nations officials, 23 American military men and a crew of seven was reported missing today on the gulf of Alaska leg of a 1,348-mile flight from Vancouver, B. C., to Anchorage, Alaska.
The big four-engined plane, operated by the Canadian Pacific Airlines on military charter for service to Korea, was last heard from at 12:17 a. m. PST (3:17 a. m. EST) off Cape Spencer, about 80 miles due west of Juneau, Alaska.
The CPA officer here said the U. S. Coast Guard had launched a search of the area, and Royal Canadian Air Force search and rescue planes were standing by at Vancouver's Sea Island base.
The usual military restrictions prevented immediate release of the names of the passengers. The airline said it would identify the crewman as soon as next of kin had been notified. Two of the crew members were stewardesses. All lived in Vancouver.

Dance Floor Wrecked At Sacramento, Calif.
SACRAMENTO, Calif. — (AP) — Authorities used tear gas and fire hoses to break up a riot involving more than 500 persons at a suburban swimming pool and dance hall tonight.
Sheriff's deputies reported from the scene at Eleverta that the trouble started when an estimated 150 youths tried to crash a dance sponsored by an air force unit from nearby McClellan field. Eleverta is 15 miles northeast of Sacramento.
Two persons were injured seriously.
The dance floor was ripped up in the wild melee. Tables were overturned.
There were about 400 airmen and their dates at the dance.
Both McClellan and Mather air force base sent several bus loads of air police.
Fire departments from three towns were called to shoot streams of water into the milling crowd.
Sheriff's deputy A. S. Goodman said several carloads of rioters were taken to Sacramento for booking in the county jail.

MIAMI, Fla. — (AP) — Roy E. Sundell, 30-year-old Detroit, was held by U. S. authorities today, unable to post $5,000 bond on charges of forging about $6,800 worth of money orders stolen in Milwaukee.
Sundell was arrested by postal inspectors here as he attempted to buy an airplane ticket with a money order for $100. The inspectors claim he had cashed about 68 others.

Swollen Missouri
Highest Since 1844;
St. Louis Prepared
ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Fed by the devastating flood crest of the Missouri river, the Mississippi is expected to climb late tonight to its highest level at St. Louis in 107 years.
The predicted crest of 40½ feet at midnight tonight would be just .9 of a foot under the all-time record set June 27, 1844.
The Missouri was swollen to a width of five miles in many places. It smashed one dike after another as the crest moved across the state from Kansas City, in the

Water And Gas Break Up Riot
ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Fed by the hardest hit area to the point where it is cutting its gummy burden into the Mississippi 15 miles north of here.
Most of St. Louis is on high ground out of reach of the flood, but precautions were taken against a water-shortage and contamination of the supply from sewer seepage.
As the Missouri crest passed into the Mississippi, Maj. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, chief of the army engineers, reported the billion dollar flood had cost 41 lives in Kansas and Missouri.
Reporting to a Senate subcommittee in Washington after an on-the-spot survey, Pick gave the following breakdown covering the two state areas for the period up to last Tuesday.
Residents Won't Leave
Two million acres flooded, 1,074,000 in Kansas and 926,000 in Missouri; 518,000 persons displaced, 368,500 in Kansas and 150,000 in Missouri, 17 bridges swept away in Kansas.
The Missouri smashed nearly all the flood barriers near its mouth, spilling the flood over thousands of additional acres in the area where nearly 60,000 acres already was flooded.
Although the long battle to keep the waters out of the town of West Alton had been lost, most of the 300 residents stubbornly stuck to their homes.
The water had pushed its way into at least half the homes and was running three-feet deep on some of the streets. But the town people in the village near the Missouri's mouth merely moved to second floors.
Army engineers still were confident that nearly all of the major dikes on the Mississippi downstream from St. Louis would hold. Scores of workers toiled feverishly at weaker points.

DETROIT — (AP) — A jealous young man, convicted of shooting and permanently paralyzing his former sweetheart, must serve 10 to 20 years in prison.
Circuit Judge Thomas F. Maher imposed the sentence on Clarence H. Korte, 25. Korte was convicted by a jury last month.
Korte's victim, Geraldine Sanford, 20, had testified against him. A rifle bullet shattered her spine while she was riding with another young man last Sept. 24.
"Jealousy can be a terrible thing," Judge Maher said. "It has wrecked Miss Sanford's life. It won't help yours. You have a long time to think that over."

LONDON — (AP) — The British government today seized the passports of a British atom expert and a foreign office diplomat. It clamped a watch on air and sea ports to prevent their leaving the country.
A foreign source said neither of the two men—who were not identified—had any connection with missing diplomats Guy Burgess and Donald MacLean.
Neither the foreign office nor the home office would give any reason for confiscating the passports.
The foreign office source said the cases of the scientist and the foreign office man were not related, but that the two passports just happened to be impounded on the same day.
The scientist was identified only as a lecturer on atomic science.

The Pilgrimage play, a dramatization of the life of Christ, was to have closed tonight. But the outdoor theater near the bowl has been jammed since the announcement that it would be closed and the production now can continue, said officials.

House Passes Patched-Up
Economic Controls Bill
WASHINGTON — (AP) — A patched-up economic controls bill, minus most of the added features President Truman wanted, was passed by the House early today.
The measure, extending wage, price and other controls for one year, now goes to a Senate-House conference committee to iron out differences between it and an eight-months extension voted by the Senate. On the whole, the two differed but little on several major points; none on a few.
Nobody Satisfied
As the House bill finally emerged, it was a patchwork of amendments which appeared to satisfy neither Democrats nor Republicans entirely.
Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston said the bill does not give consumers "the break they deserved."
But administration House leaders conceded it might have been worse.
In the grueling 14-hour wind-up session ending early this morning, they were able to snatch at least partial victory out of a fight studded with defeats over the past two weeks.
Freeze Eliminated
They knocked out an amendment freezing price and wage ceilings for 120 days at July 7 levels.
They succeeded in reversing a previously adopted requirement that price ceilings on farm and manufactured goods must reflect costs plus a "reasonable profit."
Administration forces also managed to reverse an earlier House action which assured meat packers and processors a profit on every animal processed.
And they salvaged the recent 10 per cent rollback on live beef prices, though the House refused to grant the additional nine per cent rollbacks planned by Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle.

Grain Fields Levelled
MINNEAPOLIS — (AP) — A roaring, 100-mile-an-hour windstorm cut a swath of destruction through eastern South Dakota and central Minnesota, killing three persons and injuring upwards of 100 tonight.
Violent lightning bolts set numerous small fires. Trees toppled in the violent gusts to cut power lines and blackout large areas in the storm's path. Acres of grain crops almost ready for harvest were levelled.
Roof Collapses
Two deaths came at St. Anthony, a north Minneapolis suburb, when the wind and deluge of rain collapsed the roof of a food store crowded with Friday night shoppers.
Ernest Nelson, St. Anthony fire chief, said bodies of a man and woman were caught in the tons of debris and jumbled canned goods. He said that removal of the bodies would require some time.
In St. Paul, four-months-old Terrence Malm died shortly after a chimney on the family home toppled, pierced the roof and covered the crib with bricks and other debris.
At midnight (CST), Minneapolis general hospital nurses said 70 storm victims were being cared for and "more are still being brought in."
The airport weather bureau said the storm was the worst ever recorded in the twin cities. They reported wind gusts "exceeded by a large margin" the 100 mile an hour wind velocity capable of being recorded on the station's gauges. Rain amounted to 1.61 inches in less than 60 minutes, a

CARIRO — (AP) — Prince Tallal, the anti-British eldest son of murdered King Abdullah of Jordan, was reported to be furious today because his younger brother, Prince Naif, has been named regent, and thus the apparent successor to Jordan's throne.
The Egyptian news magazine Akhbar El Yom, reporting this, predicted Tallal would make a surprise visit to Jordan. If he does so, a dynastic struggle might ensue which could plunge the whole Middle East into strife.

The magazine declared, however, that Tallal, 40, would not succeed to the throne "because of his nervous state," even though members of his entourage were addressing him as "His Majesty, The King."
(Some weeks ago, the Israeli press declared Prince Tallal had been taken to a hospital in Beirut after shooting Brig. John Glubb Pasha, British-born commander of the crack Arab Legion. Officials in Amman denied the attack. After Abdullah's assassination in Jerusalem yesterday it became known that Tallal had left Beirut for a vacation in Switzerland.)

JACKSON, Miss. — (AP) — A dozen Mississippians, some of them leaders of the pro-Truman faction in the state, are under federal grand jury indictments charging conspiracy to sell federal jobs in Mississippi.
Among them are Clarence E. Hood, deposed acting National Democratic committeeman from Mississippi; Frank Mize, brother of U. S. District Judge Sidney Mize and chairman of the pro-Truman Democratic committee in this state; Curtis Rogers, secretary of the committee; and Forrest Jackson, committee counsel.
Special assistant U. S. Attorney Ben Brooks of Washington, who announced the indictments here last night, said that Rogers and Jackson, in addition to the counts charging conspiracy to sell federal jobs, are charged also with job selling and with perjury.
The twelve defendants were covered in 12 bills of indictment, returned by a grand jury after an eight-day session.
In the event of conviction, a count of conspiracy to sell federal jobs carries a one-year imprisonment or $1,000 fine, or both. Brooks defined a conspiracy to sell federal jobs as a plot to violate a misdemeanor statute, calling for a comparatively light sentence.
The actual sale of a federal job is punishable by a similar sentence—one year imprisonment or $1,000 fine, or both.
The perjury count is a felony, punishable by five years imprisonment or $2,000 fine, or both.

The mayor said it would be a non-political speech. Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Senator Blair Moody and former Senator Prentiss M. Brown will be among guests on the steps with the President.
A reception for Mr. Truman is planned in the mayor's office following the speech.

FLINT, Mich. — (AP) — Former State Attorney General Stephen J. Roth today called for the resignation of State Democratic Committee Chairman Neil Staebler.
Roth, in a blistering letter to Staebler, charged the party leader with "willful and capricious" in the sending yesterday of Democratic campaign fund solicitations to Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., and other Republican officials.
Roth said one of the "fund seeking letters" was also sent to him addressed to his former Lansing office.
Roth hinted that state civic service employees were solicited by the letters signed by Howard P. Hunt, Democratic party finance director.
Roth said the letter sought campaign fund contributions on the assumption that "Alger and other state officials were appointed by Governor Williams."

Fabulous Rubinstein
Acquitted By Jury
NEW YORK — (AP) — A new chapter has been written in the saga of Serge Rubinstein, the controversial international financier who started life as the son of a financier for the last Russian Czar.
Rubinstein, once convicted of draft dodging, tearfully heard a federal court jury acquit him yesterday on charges of mail fraud and securities law violations.
If the jury had convicted him the 43-year-old financier would have faced a maximum of 20 years in jail and $30,000 in fines.
The verdict after two hours' deliberation was greeted by cheers and applause from friends of Rubinstein in the courtroom.
Rubinstein rushed to the jury box to thank the eight men and four women jurors. Later he told newsmen:
"I am a great believer in American justice. I believe that the jurors expressed that high principle."
During the 20-day trial, the government accused Rubinstein of swindling investors out of $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 by rigging common stock of Panhandle Producing and Refining company through false and misleading statements regarding its prospects.

Address Saturday To Be 'Non-Political'
DETROIT — (AP) — President Truman will speak from the city hall steps at noon next Saturday when he comes to Detroit to join in its celebration of its 250th birthday.
The President, however, will leave Detroit before its birthday parade begins at 2 p. m. EST.
Mayor Albert E. Cobo, who will introduce the President, said the chief executive's speech will last about half an hour and will deal with Detroit's role in the country's defense.
The mayor said it would be a non-political speech. Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Senator Blair Moody and former Senator Prentiss M. Brown will be among guests on the steps with the President.
A reception for Mr. Truman is planned in the mayor's office following the speech.
Secretary of State Dean Acheson will deliver what the state department has described as a speech of international importance on Tuesday night. He will arrive at Willow Run airport 5 p. m. that day. He speaks at the Veterans Memorial building at 8:30 p. m.

State Democratic Chairman Blasted
For Campaign Dun
FLINT, Mich. — (AP) — Former State Attorney General Stephen J. Roth today called for the resignation of State Democratic Committee Chairman Neil Staebler.
Roth, in a blistering letter to Staebler, charged the party leader with "willful and capricious" in the sending yesterday of Democratic campaign fund solicitations to Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., and other Republican officials.
Roth said one of the "fund seeking letters" was also sent to him addressed to his former Lansing office.
Roth hinted that state civic service employees were solicited by the letters signed by Howard P. Hunt, Democratic party finance director.
Roth said the letter sought campaign fund contributions on the assumption that "Alger and other state officials were appointed by Governor Williams."

Consumer To Suffer,
Stabilizer Warns
By BARNEY LIVINGSTONE
WASHINGTON — (AP) — A stripped-down economic controls bill, minus most of the added features President Truman wanted, was passed by the House early today.
The measure, extending wage, price and other controls for one year, now goes to a Senate-House conference committee to iron out differences between it and an eight-months extension voted by the Senate. On the whole, the two differed but little on several major points; none on a few.
Nobody Satisfied
As the House bill finally emerged, it was a patchwork of amendments which appeared to satisfy neither Democrats nor Republicans entirely.
Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston said the bill does not give consumers "the break they deserved."
But administration House leaders conceded it might have been worse.
In the grueling 14-hour wind-up session ending early this morning, they were able to snatch at least partial victory out of a fight studded with defeats over the past two weeks.
Freeze Eliminated
They knocked out an amendment freezing price and wage ceilings for 120 days at July 7 levels.
They succeeded in reversing a previously adopted requirement that price ceilings on farm and manufactured goods must reflect costs plus a "reasonable profit."
Administration forces also managed to reverse an earlier House action which assured meat packers and processors a profit on every animal processed.
And they salvaged the recent 10 per cent rollback on live beef prices, though the House refused to grant the additional nine per cent rollbacks planned by Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle.
On several other major issues, (Continued On Page 12)

Kills 3, Injures 100;
Grain Fields Levelled
MINNEAPOLIS — (AP) — A roaring, 100-mile-an-hour windstorm cut a swath of destruction through eastern South Dakota and central Minnesota, killing three persons and injuring upwards of 100 tonight.
Violent lightning bolts set numerous small fires. Trees toppled in the violent gusts to cut power lines and blackout large areas in the storm's path. Acres of grain crops almost ready for harvest were levelled.
Roof Collapses
Two deaths came at St. Anthony, a north Minneapolis suburb, when the wind and deluge of rain collapsed the roof of a food store crowded with Friday night shoppers.
Ernest Nelson, St. Anthony fire chief, said bodies of a man and woman were caught in the tons of debris and jumbled canned goods. He said that removal of the bodies would require some time.
In St. Paul, four-months-old Terrence Malm died shortly after a chimney on the family home toppled, pierced the roof and covered the crib with bricks and other debris.
At midnight (CST), Minneapolis general hospital nurses said 70 storm victims were being cared for and "more are still being brought in."
The airport weather bureau said the storm was the worst ever recorded in the twin cities. They reported wind gusts "exceeded by a large margin" the 100 mile an hour wind velocity capable of being recorded on the station's gauges. Rain amounted to 1.61 inches in less than 60 minutes, a

Killing Of Jordan's

New Palestine War
By FRED J. ZUSY
CARIRO — (AP) — Prince Tallal, the anti-British eldest son of murdered King Abdullah of Jordan, was reported to be furious today because his younger brother, Prince Naif, has been named regent, and thus the apparent successor to Jordan's throne.
The Egyptian news magazine Akhbar El Yom, reporting this, predicted Tallal would make a surprise visit to Jordan. If he does so, a dynastic struggle might ensue which could plunge the whole Middle East into strife.
Russia Watching
The magazine declared, however, that Tallal, 40, would not succeed to the throne "because of his nervous state," even though members of his entourage were addressing him as "His Majesty, The King."
(Some weeks ago, the Israeli press declared Prince Tallal had been taken to a hospital in Beirut after shooting Brig. John Glubb Pasha, British-born commander of the crack Arab Legion. Officials in Amman denied the attack. After Abdullah's assassination in Jerusalem yesterday it became known that Tallal had left Beirut for a vacation in Switzerland.)

For Job Selling
In Mississippi
Pro-Truman Faction
Leaders Accused
JACKSON, Miss. — (AP) — A dozen Mississippians, some of them leaders of the pro-Truman faction in the state, are under federal grand jury indictments charging conspiracy to sell federal jobs in Mississippi.
Among them are Clarence E. Hood, deposed acting National Democratic committeeman from Mississippi; Frank Mize, brother of U. S. District Judge Sidney Mize and chairman of the pro-Truman Democratic committee in this state; Curtis Rogers, secretary of the committee; and Forrest Jackson, committee counsel.
Special assistant U. S. Attorney Ben Brooks of Washington, who announced the indictments here last night, said that Rogers and Jackson, in addition to the counts charging conspiracy to sell federal jobs, are charged also with job selling and with perjury.
The twelve defendants were covered in 12 bills of indictment, returned by a grand jury after an eight-day session.
In the event of conviction, a count of conspiracy to sell federal jobs carries a one-year imprisonment or $1,000 fine, or both. Brooks defined a conspiracy to sell federal jobs as a plot to violate a misdemeanor statute, calling for a comparatively light sentence.
The actual sale of a federal job is punishable by a similar sentence—one year imprisonment or $1,000 fine, or both.
The perjury count is a felony, punishable by five years imprisonment or $2,000 fine, or both.

Alley Spraying Begins Monday

Weak Solution Of DDT To Be Used

Alleys in Escanaba will be sprayed with a weak solution of DDT Monday if weather permits, City Forester Robert Clayton has announced. The spraying is the first of the season. One or two additional sprayings will be made during the summer season.

Clayton said the DDT solution to be used is effective against flies and mosquitoes but not harmful to bees and other insects. About 2000 gallons of the solution will be used.

The forestry department Friday completed the spraying of trees throughout the city to control aphids. A solution of parathion was used.

The Ludington Park also has been given a spraying for control of flies and mosquitoes and the beachhouse has been sprayed twice this season, Clayton reported.

Harold Beaton Probes RFC Mess In Capital

Harold Beaton, former Escanaba resident, and now assistant to the attorney general, is the man in charge of determining what will be done with the RFC investigation.

Beaton, well-known in this area, has also been suggested as a possible successor to Judge Ward I. Waller of the 32nd judicial circuit, who has indicated he will retire.

He is a brother of Tom Beaton of Escanaba.

Following is a story about Beaton and the RFC by Milt Dean Hill, radio commentator and Washington reporter:

"A young Michigan Democrat has inherited the capital's biggest headache in years.

"As a result he's on the spot. "Harold Beaton, special assistant to the attorney general is the man who's got to decide what to do with the RFC mess.

"Atty. General J. Howard McGrath dumped the whole thing in Beaton's lap recently, knowing full well that whatever the young Michigan attorney does probably will make somebody mad.

"It's no secret that the White House, itself, will be looking over Beaton's shoulder.

Needs Evidence
"Hal Beaton must develop evidence with a grand jury, based on sworn testimony before a congressional investigating committee, that somebody's lying about all the 'influence' in the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's operations.

"And it isn't easy. Under the federal law, Uncle Sam's got to have more actual evidence—both original and corroborative than you'd expect.

"More big names have been kicked around the RFC hearings than almost any investigation in the memory of the current Washington generation.

"White House aides, mink coats, fabulous 'deals' of all sorts have come to light. High-ranking officials have sat before a Senate investigating committee and sworn to exactly opposite stories.

"The story has made national headlines for weeks, especially the mink coat, that went to a White House stenographer.

"Now Mr. Beaton's got to decide—on the basis of the evidence and the testimony—who, if anybody, is lying.

"If that can be decided, it might result in a Washington grand jury indicting somebody.

"Whatever happens, Beaton's sitting under the gun.

Once a Lumberjack
"The hefty young attorney is all Michigan. He's one of the most active figures in the Michigan State society in Washington.

"He was born in Michigan and got his education at Escanaba. Later he taught school in the Upper Peninsula and worked in his spare time as a lumberjack. In the early 1930's he went to Marquette University at Milwaukee and became a football star.

"In 1934 he was elected to the job as prosecuting attorney of Mackinac county and re-elected in 1936. He turned down a bid for a third term, and in 1939, came to Washington with former Gov. Frank Murphy, when Murphy took over the justice department.

"Like Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Beaton was one of Murphy's bright young men.

"When the war broke out, Beaton enlisted and went to the southwest Pacific, where he was decorated half a dozen times. When the war ended he was still an enlisted man, but was in charge of intelligence agents for the Army in Manila.

"He returned to Michigan for a vacation, put his affairs in order, then came back to the justice department in Washington.

Lost Congress Race
"In 1948, he ran for Congress against Rep. Charles Potter of Cheboygan—and lost. Now he's glad he wasn't elected, and is a close friend of the legless congressman in Washington today.

"He rejoined the department of justice in time to handle the famous Charles Hemans case, involving a prominent Michigan figure who was returned to the state to testify—much against his will.

"He also handled the now famous Myer Gordon jewel robbery ring case in which a Chicago jewel thief had set up a ring from which he sold jewelry.

"Now he's got the RFC headache.

"Before it's over, he may not be so happy about not have been elected to Congress."

Boy, 14, Awaits Death On Railroad Track

BERTHOUD, Colo.—(P)—A 14-year-old boy raised his head, looked at an oncoming train and then lay back down across a railroad track where the locomotive crushed him to death.

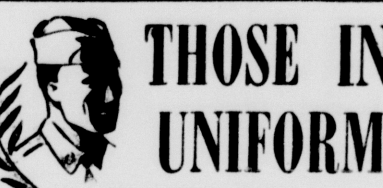

Coroner Harold Warren listed the death of Delayne R. Patterson, jr., tentatively as a suicide. He said an inquest would be held when the train crew could attend.

Engineer J. L. Byrne and Fireman Pete Meninger of the southbound Colorado and southern passenger train told Sheriff Ray Barger they saw the youth raise his head and look at the train as it sped toward him at 50 miles an hour.

The train halted within a quarter of a mile. The boy's body was scattered along the right-of-way.

Improper Turns Cause Many Auto Accidents

(This is the second article in a series explaining the new uniform traffic enforcement system adopted in Escanaba by the Escanaba Police department.)

Second on the list of violations causing traffic accidents are improper turning movements. On the uniform traffic violation ticket, these turning movements are classed as two separate violations—improper left turns and improper right turns.

To make a left turn properly, the driver should signal with his left hand straight out or signal with his turning lights. He should then approach the position to start his turn by getting into the lane nearest the centerline, wait for oncoming pedestrian and vehicular traffic to clear, and then turn. When approaching the intersection to make the turn, the driver should stay to the right of the intersection of the crosswalk and the centerline. Turning without making an intelligible signal represents one type of violation made while making a left turn and is the cause of many rear-end collisions.

Turning From Wrong Lane

By cutting over the intersection of the crosswalk and centerline, the driver commits the violation known as cutting the corner. This car is responsible for many pedestrian accidents and collisions with cars approaching the intersection into which the violating driver is turning.

A third violation while making a left turn is committed by the driver who starts his turn when he is in the right hand lane. This is the most serious violation and the cause of many serious accidents. Drivers often underestimate the turning capacities of their autos and swing into an improper lane before starting a turn. At proper speeds, no driver has to swing away from his turn before starting it.

To make a right turn properly, the motorist should drive as near to the right side of the street as possible, and should signal his intention to turn, either with a hand or mechanical signal. He should make his right turn without swinging into the left lane of traffic on the street into which he is turning.

Improper right turns are made when the driver does not signal, when he turns into the wrong lane and when he starts his turn from the wrong lane.

Collisions that develop as a result of improper turning movement are never excusable. Director Glenn Leonard contends. Many times such violations are the result of bad driving habits developed over a long period of time.

Violations Evaluated

On the uniform traffic violation tickets, these errors in driving techniques are evaluated according to their potential danger. Greater emphasis is placed when the violation causes a person to dodge or causes a collision. Existing circumstances such as darkness, slippery pavement or heavy traffic increase the hazard of the violation and the severity of the penalties.

Many motorists become involved in collisions by failing to yield the right of way to other vehicles and pedestrians who are legally within the intersection. The driver who is making the turn must be doubly aware of his responsibilities since vehicles proceeding straight through the intersection have the right of way. Pedestrians crossing with the green light also have the right of way over vehicles attempting to turn with the green light.

Industry Asks For More Steel

Shortages Feared In Next Quarter

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — (P)—The battle for steel is on. The oil, auto, and natural gas industries are all clamoring at once today for a greater share. Numerous civilian goods industries would like more.

At stake—the industries say—is whether there'll be enough fuel oil and gas next winter to ride out any prolonged cold spell, and keep all homes warm, all factories operating. There is even talk of possible rationing of fuel in some areas next winter.

Also at stake is whether you can put a gas burner in your new house. Oilmen say they must have more steel pipe if they are to find, refine and transport gasoline, home heating fuel oil, and oil for heavy industry to meet rising military and civilian demands.

Auto Plants Cut Back

The auto industry is cutting back production for lack of steel, and the number of idle workmen in Detroit continues to grow. And lay-offs have been widespread in the electrical appliance industry.

The defense production administration says there just isn't enough of some kinds of steel products to go around and meet every one's full needs and desires.

The worst of the shortage, however, may be over much sooner than was first feared. Steelmen say production is increasing at such a rate—thanks to a record expansion program—that there will be plenty of steel for all in the first part of next year. Some have even predicted a surplus next year.

Expect Pinch Soon

The next three months, though, will see a real pinch, although steelmen think that from October on they'll be producing enough steel so that civilian goods industries may get larger quotas than this summer—but still not as much as they'd like.

With only 2,480,000 tons of plate steel to pass around in the fourth quarter, the defense production administration estimates major demands as follows: 240,000 tons for the armed services; 273,000 tons for construction of plants; 230,000 tons for heavy electric power equipment; 40,000 tons for building electric power plants; and 750,000 tons for the petroleum industry, including refineries and pipelines.

The scramble for that steel will be hot this summer.

Built by GE as a stunt in 1929 for "Light's Golden Jubilee," no practical use was found for the bulb until it was used recently in the filming of a circus movie under the big top.

Boat License Deadline Near

New Plates Needed By Wednesday

Michigan boatmen are again advised that July 25 is the deadline for acquiring their boat license plates.

Tags must be displayed by all boats used on any navigable Michigan waterway, except vessels having an overall length of less than 16 ft., or those propelled solely by muscular power or detachable outboard motor. Those still without licenses can obtain applications at any branch office of the Michigan Department of Revenue, or by writing to that department, 200 Tussing Building, Lansing.

Law enforcement officers will commence ticketing unlicensed boats after the 25th. A strict program of enforcement is planned. Violators are warned that the law imposes penalties for failure to properly license a boat—up to $100 fine or 30 days' imprisonment, or both.

Half of this license fee is returned to boat owners and users since this amount is credited to the "Harbors of Refuge and Rivers Improvement Fund."

Boatmen are also reminded that marine fuel dealers may charge a tax of only 3c per gallon on fuel sold for use on the navigable waters of Michigan. The recent 1½c gas tax increase does not apply to such marine fuel. Refunds on overpayment of tax can be obtained from dealers. When purchased from licensed marine dealers, every penny of the 3c tax goes toward the improvement of harbors and other boating facilities.

New Water Plant Here Prevents Trouble That Besets Green Bay

THERE are comparatively few persons in Escanaba who question the need for the new water filtration plant now under construction here, but if there are any doubters they need only to familiarize themselves with the water situation in Green Bay.

Green Bay gets its water supply from deep wells, despite the fact that Green Bay, like Escanaba, has the unlimited volume of Lake Michigan water in its front yard. This week Green Bay officials ordered the suspension of water for lawn and garden sprinkling, suspended street and sewer flushing and prohibited the use of water for air conditioning.

Water pressure in Green Bay dropped so low this week that drinking fountains and taps would not operate on the second floor. Some industries were forced to suspend operations and, of course, the inadequate water situation in Green Bay surely will cause new industries to think twice before moving into Green Bay.

Drilling additional wells is no solution to the Green Bay water problem, as the city officials have already found out. A new well simply lowers the water table of the other wells, providing only scant additional volume. Supt. Harold Londo of the Green Bay water department calls these new wells "175,000 crutches."

Green Bay's only solid solution to the problem is the construction of a water filtration plant that will draw the community's needs directly from Lake Michigan. The Lake Michigan supply is inexhaustible and it is water of excellent quality for all purposes.

Green Bay's situation is even worse than Escanaba's because Green Bay is already short of water. Escanaba's water supply was only threatened. With good luck, our new plant should be in operation in another year or year and a half. In the meantime, also with good luck, our present facilities should meet the temporary requirements without recourse to restrictive measures.

U. P. DEVELOPMENT BUREAU
(Menominee Herald-Leader)

Directors of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau will meet at Marquette, Thursday, July 26, to discuss Bureau problems. They have done that many times before. This time it's different. This time the problems are so great that the life of the Bureau may hang on the decisions to be made. The Bureau is more than 35 years old. It has served overall promotional needs of the peninsula in a difficult period of change from an economy of lumbering to one of varied industry. Once upon a time the chief support of the Bureau used to come from the counties of the peninsula, whose supervisors recognized the value of the work such an agency could do and the work it was doing. As the main emphasis of the Bureau swung from promotion of farming on the cutover timberlands to promotion of the tourist and resort business, its base of support changed too and at present the U. P. Lure Book, published annually by the Bureau, is its chief means of income. The advertising income not only supports the book, but also the other activities of the Bureau.

Now the Lure Book is in trouble. Criticized by this newspaper as too costly, too limited in circulation and not up to the standards of similar publications issued elsewhere, it carried over a large debt from last year, so this year's issue came out late and precariously only after rescue by loans from U. P. banks. This year the Copper Country withdrew its support from the Lure Book, choosing to go it alone with its promotional money. Next year Menominee county has threatened to do likewise because of dissatisfaction with the Lure Book. (Menominee was granted no copy change this year.) The Bureau staff at Marquette has been sharply reduced. The Lure Book editor is reported released. That's the way things stack up as the Bureau directors prepare to meet and discuss burial or rejuvenation for the Bureau.

It is the only peninsula-wide organization serving the U. P. promotionally. That gives it special value. Essentially the failing which has brought this crisis is one of non-cooperation and Menominee has been a leader in it, with notable exception of persons like G. Harold Earle of Hermansville and some other individuals who have given time and money to the peninsula's promotion through the Bureau. The Marquette meeting on July 26 is urgent. It should be well attended. The situation should be thoroughly reviewed before the peninsula indulges in more of its present talk that "Maybe it's time to wash up the Bureau and try something else; maybe it has outlived its usefulness."

TO SAVE ALCOHOLICS
(Detroit News)

It is only sensible that alcohol should contribute to the cost of coping with problems it creates. We are obliged to live with it, but the burden of its support should rest as far as possible on itself.

Hence a new law in this state which earmarks 5 per cent of its liquor license fees to combating alcoholism, a condition affecting some 250,000 persons in Michigan. The House study committee which drafted and pushed the legislation, while hoping for the best, is quite aware that the fight on alcoholism operates in a largely uncharted field; that it is susceptible to attack from a number of directions, the efficacy of which varies with individuals.

Its conclusion, embodied in the measure just passed, was that a newly created commission should administer the funds provided on a basis of matching local funds in communities with alcoholic rehabilitation programs, and that its future direction should be governed by experience. It is easy to believe that from the activities of the new body something very fruitful will issue.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It was kept out of the newspapers, but President Truman had another of his confidential talks with members of Congress at Blair House over coffee and sandwiches some time ago. Most significant development at the session was a blast at William Boyle, chairman of the Democratic national committee, and an impassioned presidential plea for peace by the president.

Present at the meeting were Senators Clements of Kentucky, Hennings of Missouri, Humphrey of Minnesota, Murray of Montana, and Smathers of Florida; together with Representatives Boggs of Louisiana, Hays of Ohio, Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota, and Yorty of California—all Democrats.

Truman opened the discussion by urging his guests to speak freely on any gripes they might be nursing. He is used to criticism, he said, after all the brickbats tossed at him following the ouster of MacArthur.

"I don't care what the newspapers or my Republican foes say about me," he declared. "All I hope is that I am able to settle this crisis without one American city being atom-bombed and without the destruction of civilization by a third World War."

"What people say about me is of no importance if I can prevent that. After all, I have no personal ambitions."

Then he added—with a grin: "I've gone as high as I can get. There's no future in this job."

Waking serious again, the president stated that there is a crying need for more constructive criticism, and less mud-slinging and reckless vituperation, if the government is to serve the best interests of the American people on both the foreign and domestic fronts.

GABRIELSON'S FEES
"A lot of Democrats are peeved about the RFC investigation, but it is constructive to let the public know both sides of the inquiry," Truman remarked. "Anything less is a whitewash. I proposed to reorganize the RFC some time ago, but I got little help or encouragement from Congress."

Looking at Congressman Hays of Ohio, he checked himself and added:

"I did get some important help from you. Your speech about those big fees received by Guy Gabrielson (Republican national chairman) for getting RFC loans for the Carthage Hydrocol company was a great job."

"The only thing that made me mad about my speech on Gabrielson's fees," Congressman Hays interrupted, "was that the Cleveland Plain Dealer insinuated that the information was planted on me by the Democratic national committee."

"Planted?" continued Hays. "Imagine that! Why, the Democratic national committee didn't have either the brains or initiative to dig it up."

"And while we're on the subject, Mr. President," said the Ohio congressman, "let's talk about our own national committee. I personally think it's a disgrace to the Democratic party and ought to be reorganized from top to bottom."

"The Republican national committee is always on its toes providing Republicans in Congress with ammunition against the Democrats, but what has Bill Boyle and his outfit ever done for us? The answer is nothing."

COCKTAIL DEMOCRATS
"The only time the Democratic national committee staff shows any signs of life is at the cocktail hour."

The president looked surprised, but made no comeback except to say that, while the national committee had some weaknesses, it wasn't as bad as Hays painted it. He didn't drop the subject of the RFC, however, without a disparaging remark about Senator Fulbright, chief critic of the RFC.

"Everybody knows," remarked the president, "that Fulbright has written letters to the RFC himself in order to get loans for his friends."

When the conversation turned to General MacArthur, Boggs of Louisiana reminded Truman that California's Sam Yorty was the first to commend the president on the House floor for cracking down on the general.

"You know, I served as an officer on MacArthur's staff in the Pacific," observed Yorty, "and I know a lot about him. If anyone under MacArthur had been guilty of the brazen insubordination toward you that MacArthur displayed toward you, that man would have been court-martialed before you could bat your eye."

STOPLIGHTS OF SPEECH

Speech, like the fine copper wire of the telephone, instantaneously transmits from one mind to another the mysterious electrical impulses which we call thoughts. But so fragile and tenuous is the link between speaker and listener that the slightest discordant note will snap the delicate thread by means of which the attention of the listener is held.

To such discordant notes, let us apply the term Stoplights of Speech, defined thus: A stoplight is anything in one's speech that snaps the attention, and causes the listener's mind to switch from WHAT is being said, to HOW it is being said.

We are all familiar with the broadcaster who finds it physically impossible to refrain from saying, "And I quote" before every direct quotation, even if it consists of but a single and inconsequential word.

We have all squirmed in church each time the preacher mentions "the Church of the Lord, Jesus Christ."

Stoplights may be an overworked gesture, a nervous and repeated clearing of the throat, the habit of fiddling with one's spectacles, or frequent sniffings, or licking the lips, or use of the handkerchief. But the stoplights most often consist of pronouncements that are erroneous, or too precise, or affected, or that are seldom heard in Standard American, although perhaps to be found in some dictionary or other.

From time to time I shall discuss here various stoplights selected from adverse comments sent to me by my readers.

Defense Production Will Continue Despite Korean Cease-Fire Parley

PLANES ON THE PRODUCTION LINE: When the war goods start flowing in great quantities, shortages will follow. These are F-86 jets being mass produced by North American Aviation in Los Angeles.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Regardless of the outcome of cease-fire negotiations in Korea, the economic battle on the home front will continue unabated.

This is the struggle to maintain a near-normal economy while industry tools up for a possible future all-out war mobilization.

Nor will the end of the shooting repair much of the war damage already done on the home front.

Inflation is soon expected to break all records in the U. S. The cost of living in America has gone up close to nine per cent since the North Koreans made their aggressive crossing of the 38th Parallel more than a year ago.

A tax burden which most U. S. taxpayers believed to be crushing before they ever heard of Korea will be increased by something more than $17,000,000,000 by the end of the year.

Next February, a man with a wife and two children and a salary of $5000 a year will find his income tax bill upped from $432 to $585. The average U. S. corporation will get a tax bill on 60 per cent, compared to the one of about 38 per cent last year. On top of inflation and increased income tax, John Q. Public will shell out more in excise taxes for his liquor, entertainment, tobacco and household goods as a result of the crossing of the 38th by the Reds.

Although the anticipated shortages of consumer goods haven't yet materialized, there are signs that the present overabundance of such things as wool clothing and TV sets is just temporary. When the war goods start flowing in great quantities, then, the experts say, the shortages will follow.

Although the limited controls which U. S. business now finds itself saddled with haven't caused a major disruption in America's economic system, there are authoritative predictions that the worst is yet to come.

On the positive side of the ledger are facts which come from the latest report of defense mobilization boss Charles E. Wilson. It reveals that outstanding orders for war goods are in the neighborhood of $35,000,000,000.

Through April, May and June of this year $4,000,000,000 worth of vitally needed arms and ammunition were delivered. That is three times more than deliveries during the same period last year. And the outlook of American farms is for a four per cent increase in production this year.

Since the Korean fighting started, industrial output in America has increased about 15 per cent. And during the next two years it is planned to have it increased another 15 per cent. Wilson reports, "At least two more years of intensive labor will be required in this nation to reach our present goals of military and productive power."

Wilson's big worry is what will be the reaction of the U. S. with a truce existing in Korea. He warns:

"The assault by Soviet communism in that corner of the globe was but an episode in the long-term struggle in which we are engaged. The truce in Korea does not remove the danger that new fighting might break out there at any time. Even if peace is fully restored in that country new 'Koreas' are always possible anywhere along the broad perimeter of the Soviet empire, and any of these could lead to global war."

"We dare not slacken the pace of defense mobilization in the free world until we know that the Soviets have given up their aims of world conquest and have sincerely entered into a genuine world peace."

In the build-up of strength in the free world, the report stresses U. S. aims in three critical areas: In Western Europe the object is strength at the moment, mobilization capacity, and political stability sufficient to deter the Soviet Union from attempting to seize a center of industrial power second only to that of the U. S.

In the nations of Asia outside the Communist world the object is a state of political and economic health which will strengthen each nation internally against the threat of Communism and enable it to make its maximum contribution to the common defense.

In the Western Hemisphere the object is a tremendous development of military and economic strength, not only to serve the defense of this area, but also to provide a central source of support for defense effort among all free nations.

So They Say

We in management ask labor to believe that its future lies with free enterprise and not with the state. Its problems must be solved in the enterprise itself, or they will become insoluble.—G. A. Price, president Westinghouse Electrical Corp.

The road's not what it's cracked up to be. I've been around the world six times, and if I had it to do all over again, I wouldn't.—Jeff Davis, King of U. S. Hoboes.

As of now, we have defeated the efforts to socialize medicine.—Dr. Elmer L. Henderson, retiring president, A. M. A.

No question about Paris' gaiety and while the British festival has resulted in the city on the Thames having a little more bounce than usual, it still makes the British capital a road company of Paris, so far as esprit is concerned.—Abel Green, editor of Variety.

National Defense

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Pentagon brass is currently laying down a heavy barrage of statements for a bigger U. S. national defense effort. More men, ships, planes, guns and bases at home and overseas are being talked about.

First impression given by all this talk is that Department of Defense is planning for U. S. armed services far bigger than the three-and-a-half million man force now authorized. The cost of any such force would of course befar beyond the $60 billion authorization now being asked of Congress for this year.

Careful investigation reveals that none of these plans has yet jelled to the point of being a firm military program. Most estimates on future military requirements are in the nature of trial balloons, to see how the public will react to them.

Combined with this is a great counter-propaganda blast to offset any desire that Congress may have to cut back on this year's requests for defense funds or to slow down the mobilization program as a result of the Korean cease fire talks.

POINTS TO CONSIDER

A number of these statements are worth noting:

1. Air Force Chief of Staff Hoyt Vandenberg's reference to the U. S. "shoe-string" airforce. This was in his testimony before the Senate's investigation into General MacArthur's firing.

2. Admission by the Air Force that, with 95 wings now authorized, plans were being made for expansion to 120, 150 and 180 wings. Cost of such an Air Force is estimated at $30 billion a year.

3. Admiral Forrest Sherman, chief of naval operations, on his return from Korea, called attention to the fact that the three-and-a-half million man defense force now being built up was authorized before the Korean war broke out in June 1950. The only difference the war had made was that the plan to build up this force by 1954 had been speeded up for completion by 1952.

4. The Navy's million-man share of this plan was to put 1,161 ships on active duty. This force is being built around 12 aircraft carriers, with 14 wings of planes and two and a half divisions of Marines.

5. Congress itself produced a plan for increasing Marine strength to four full divisions, but the joint chiefs of staff are against it.

6. The Navy is planning now to try to activate another carrier and additional destroyers by reassignment of manpower now authorized. This would reduce shore personnel and increase the number of men at sea.

7. Army's original pre-Korean expansion plan called for one-and-a-half million men in 18 divisions, plus 18 regimental combat teams. Army Chief of Staff General J. Lawton Collins now talks of adding six more divisions. But these new divisions are to come largely from reassignment of the regimental combat teams and men now in ten training divisions. The additional divisions would all be activated from troops now authorized.

8. President Truman has just sent to Congress a request for $6.5 billion for defense bases, in this country and abroad. Air Force wants 77 additional bases, many of them on the perimeter of Soviet Russia's iron curtain. Army wants $50 million for nine stand-by camps, to be ready for use in case of all-out mobilization and a bigger draft call.

All these projects, however, are included in the $60 billion budget estimate for this year. So they represent no new item of cost.

9. Assistant Director of Budget Elmer B. Staats recently shocked the Senate finance committee by saying that the total government expenditures in 1953 would be $80 billion to $90 billion. Of this, $55 billion to $65 billion would be for the military.

PEAK IS AHEAD

The catch in these figures is that they include approximately $10 billion for foreign military assistance and for the U. S. atomic energy program. So the peak of direct U. S. military expenditures would be $55 billion in 1953, as compared with $40 billion to be spent this year out of the $60 billion authorized budget.

For costs and size of the armed forces beyond 1953, nothing has yet been decided. There will probably be considerable changes in units in the next six months. But they will all come within the present three and a half million man armed force ceiling. To raise the armed forces beyond four million men would require a new act of Congress.

Aug. 3 Important Date For Farmers

UPPER PENINSULA farmers will have an opportunity to see a demonstration of power logging and woods safety techniques at the annual Farmers Round-Up at Chatham August 3. The program is one of considerable interest to farmers and, of course, also to the Upper Peninsula forest products industries because farm logging provides a considerable portion of pulpwood and timber production in the area.

The emphasis upon woods safety recognizes the high accident rate in woods operations. The Chatham demonstration will show safe use of not only various types of power tools used in woods work, but also safety methods of using conventional hand tools, such as the ordinary ax and hand saw.

The forestry demonstrations will be only a portion of an excellent program of interest to farmers at the Round-Up Aug. 3. Progressive farmers sincerely interested in improving their farms and working conditions will mark this date — Friday, Aug. 3 — as a special occasion and will plan their work program so they can attend the annual Round-Up at Chatham.

Relief Rolls Should Be Public Property

THE Senate this week approved the opening of public welfare rolls to public inspection by voting 38 to 30 to prevent the federal government from cutting off relief funds to states permitting public inspection.

Indiana and Illinois recently passed state laws opening their relief rolls to public inspection. The federal government up to now has insisted upon protecting the identity of persons receiving relief funds and threatened to cut off federal funds to those states. The House still must approve the measure adopted by the Senate before it becomes effective.

The secrecy of relief rolls is without sense. If public relief costs ever are to be reduced, it is essential that chiseling be eliminated. The most effective way to eliminate chiseling is to open the relief rolls to public inspection. Indiana and Illinois legislatures recognized that when they enacted laws to open relief rolls to the public.

The Michigan legislature may well consider similar action at its next session.

Old Friend Returns In The News

A wave of nostalgia must have greeted the report that the monster of Loch Ness has been seen again. For the young folk, the monster is an allegedly huge sea serpent sighted several times during the 1930s. Loch Ness is a Scottish lake.

The two men who spotted the monster the other day had forgotten their binoculars and movie camera. But their account indicates the serpent had been modernized since earlier days. He now has a snorkel-type head and does 12 knots.

Sleeping Out

By Gordon Martin

When the night was hot and sticky and McGinley couldn't sleep, and he even tried the youthful cure of counting many sheep, then he went to get his folding cot and took it out-of-doors, where he dreamed of snoozing soundly and of giving out with snores. But he found no breeze was stirring and he viewed the night with doubt, for it wasn't long until he knew mosquitoes were about.

So McGinley slapped and swatted at the buzzing 'round his head, and he got no restful slumber as he rolled and tossed in bed. And 'twas soon, amidst the quiet, that he heard a stealthy sound, and he rose to take a look and see if burglars were around. But he tripped across a garden hose that sent him falling flat, and he found the night intruder was but just a prowling cat.

Then McGinley, nursing aches and pains, retreated to his cot, and at last he drifted off to sleep and earthly things forgot. But his face received a licking that he couldn't disregard, and he woke to find his caller was the neighbor's Saint Bernard. So McGinley views the open air with quite a lot of doubt, and no matter what the weather he will not be sleeping out.

Bay de Noquet Company Sawmill At Nahma Will Close Wednesday

Prescott Firm To Dismantle

Planing Mill Will Run Until Fall

The Bay de Noquet company will close its sawmill on Wednesday, July 25, thus marking the end of 70 years of log sawing operations at Nahma, Charles E. Good, president, announced today.

With a considerable amount of lumber on hand, the Bay de Noquet company will continue operations at its planing mill until October.

Dismantling of the sawmill will be started by the purchaser, the Prescott company of Menominee, within a few days after the shutdown and will furnish employment to a majority of the displaced millhands.

To save Nahma from suffering the "ghost town" fate of other timber-depleted sawmill communities Good launched a nationwide advertising and publicity campaign early this year to attract new industries to Nahma.

300 Inquiries Received

More than three hundred inquiries were received. One large industrial corporation was ready to erect a branch plant in Nahma, but the lack of ready electric power has stalemated the negotiations. Conferences with other industrial prospects have been frequent during the past month, Good reports.

The present Nahma sawmill, one of the largest electrically-operated plants of its kind in the Middle West, was built by the Prescott company in 1924 after the disastrous fire the previous year. It will take almost four months to dismantle, recondition and ship it to a new customer in the West.

The Bay de Noquet company was established in 1881 as a subsidiary of the Oconto company of Oconto, Wis. The Oconto company was started in 1856 at Oconto, by George Farnsworth and a man named Ambrose, who later took in as partners, Eli Bates, Johnathan Slade, Nathan Mears and James Brooks.

The Bay de Noquet company bought a tract of land 200,000 acres in area extending from the Lake Michigan shore at Nahma to within seven miles of Lake Superior. During the white pine days the logs were driven down the Sturgeon river to the Nahma sawmill. After the firm began cutting hemlock, hardwood and cedar, the Nahma & Northern railway was built, five miles in length at first but gradually lengthened until the road has 75 miles of tracks and four locomotives.

Shipped By Boat

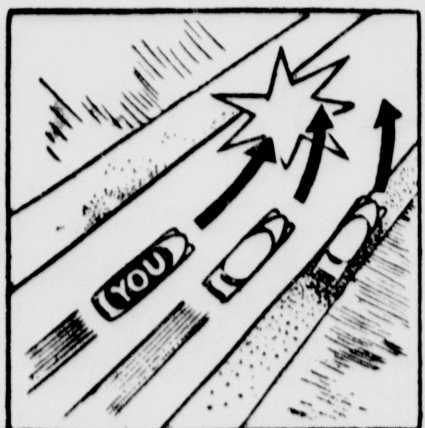

Lumber was shipped by boat for many years to Chicago, Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, Milwaukee, Erie and other lake ports. Besides the double-band sawmill, the Bay de Noquet company built a planing mill, cooperage plant and shingle mill. Back in the heyday, it had 1200 men on its mill and woods payrolls. Lumber output rose to 25,000,000 feet annually, along with large quantities of pulpwood, poles, posts, ties and shingles.

Soon after its founding, the Bay de Noquet company became a separate corporation with George Farnsworth as president. Upon his retirement, James C. Brooks became the head of the firm, followed by George J. Farnsworth. Good was elected from vice president to president in 1941.

Nahma had its first big fire in 1899 when the sawmill burned. A new one was built immediately.

Unwritten Laws Of The Road

No. 9: Don't Pass A Vehicle Which Is Opposite A Parked Car Or A Pedestrian On The Shoulder.

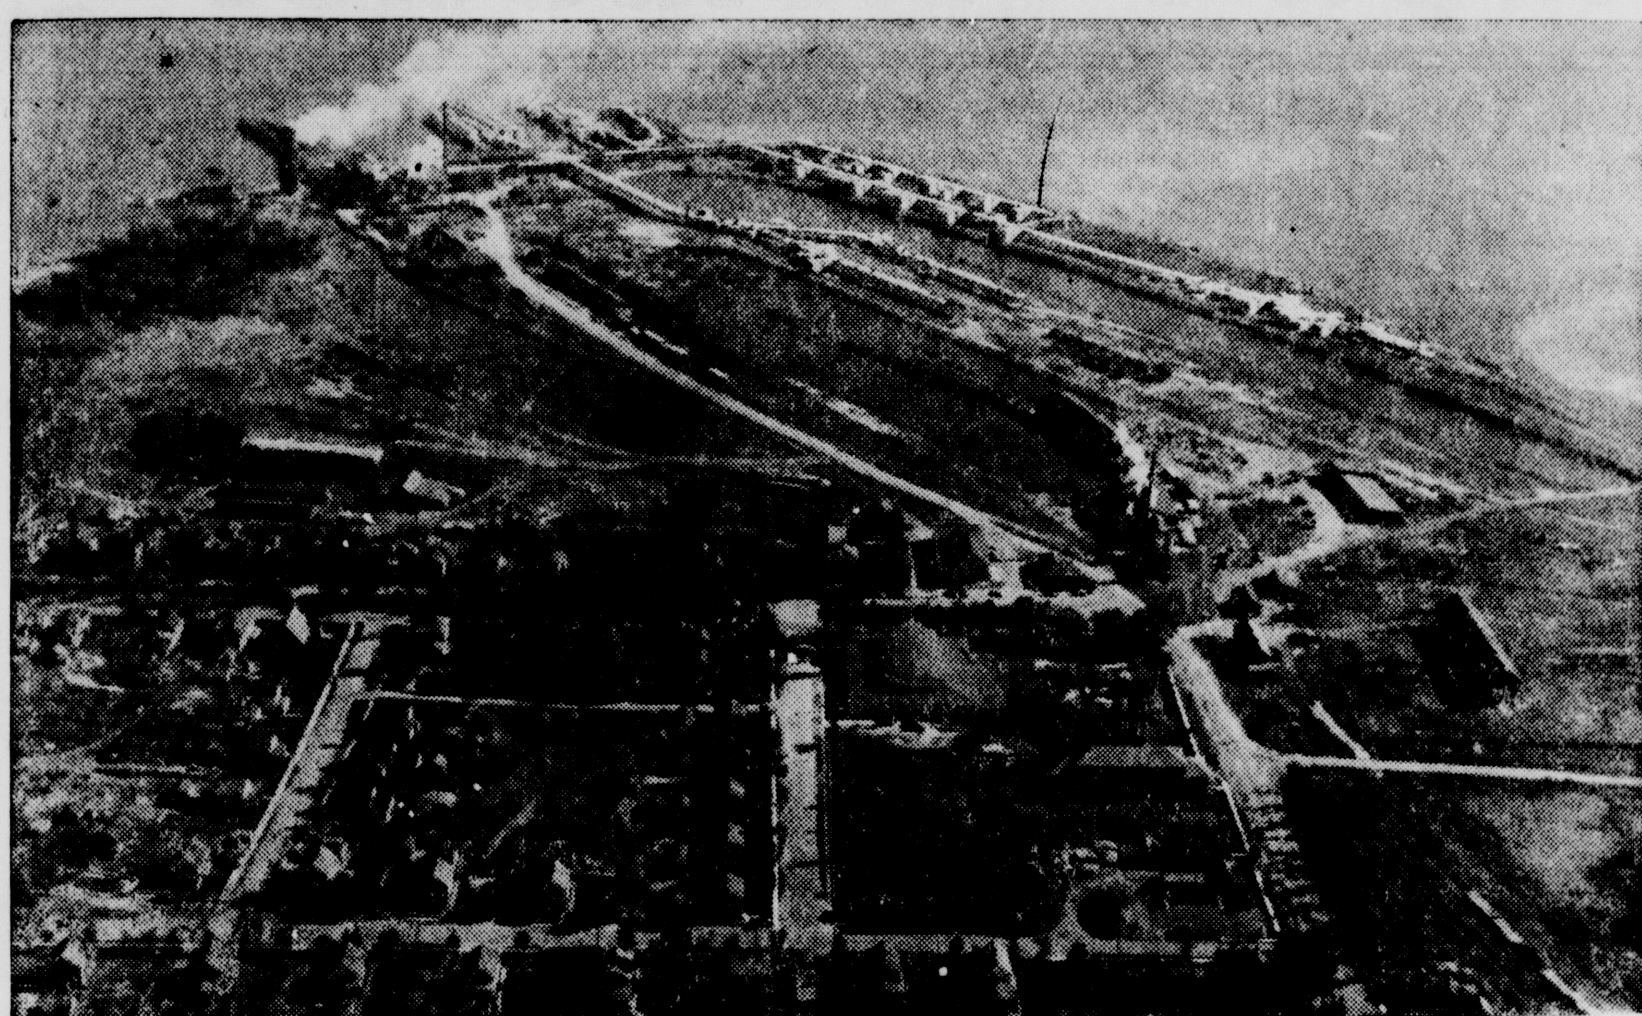

Some wag once said that you take your life in your hands when you drive. It's worse than that in passing another vehicle. You place your life in the hands of two other people if there is a person walking on the shoulder or at the wheel of a parked car at the point where you are passing.

The pedestrian can step onto the pavement or the parked car can start up and pull over onto the pavement. Either action may move the car you are trying to pass right over in front of you.

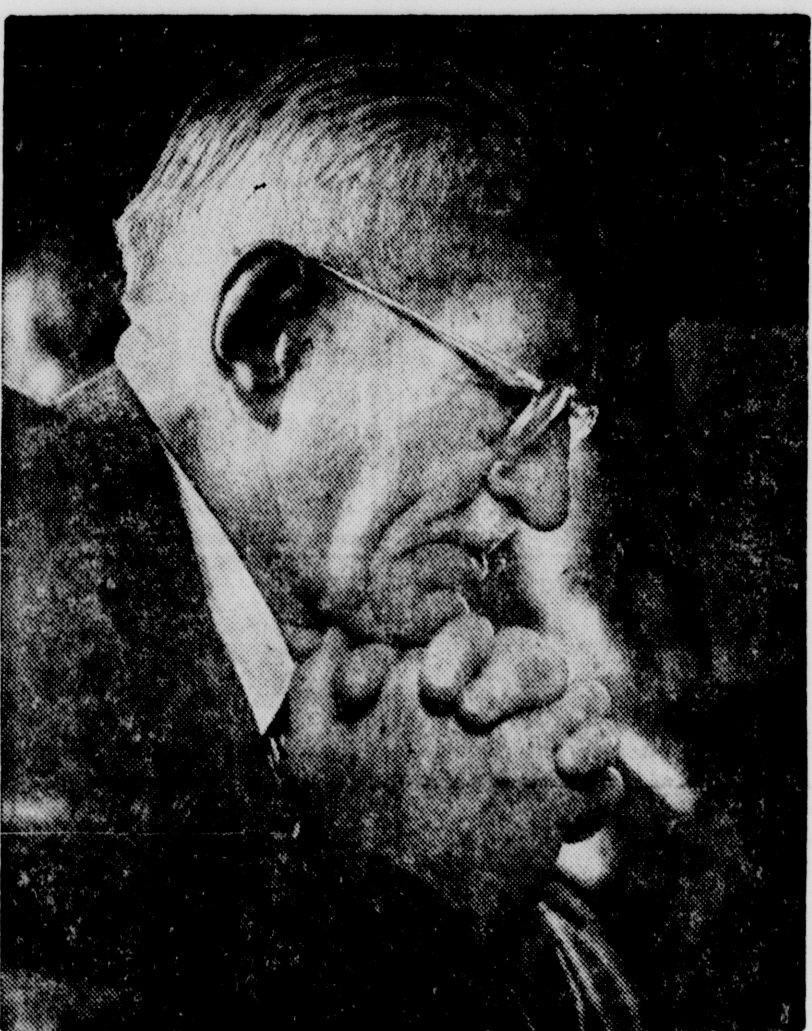

"There's a crowd" in passing. Either hold back or speed up to keep from being lined up with two other units of traffic when passing.

About 300 inquiries were received as a result of an advertising-publicity campaign conducted by Marion Luce and Larry Stein, public relations counsels of Chicago. To date, however, no deal has been closed for the disposal of the entire town. (Aerial Photo by Calberne Studio, Inc., De-Pere, Wis.)

Nahma's community building also burned twice, the last time a couple of years ago. The new clubhouse was erected at a cost of $100,000.

100 Dwellings

The Bay de Noquet company owns the entire village of Nahma and 4,000 acres of land surrounding it. The property consists of about 100 dwellings, 80 - bed boarding house, hotel, hospital, clubhouse, office, general store, golf course, beach and a half dozen cottages, railroad and industrial buildings.

Good offered to sell the entire town of Nahma for $250,000 to any company that would pledge to establish one or more industries there to furnish employment to the people.

The Oconto company purchased in 1928 the Brown Dimension company of Manistique, manufacture of hardwood flooring, furniture and automobile parts. The concern was later sold to the Bay de Noquet company and the name changed to Michigan Dimension company. The officers were: President, Charles E. Good; vice president, Ray Price; secretary, Kurt Stoehr; and Richard Farnsworth, treasurer.

The Michigan Dimension company was sold in 1950 to the Munising Wood Products company.

Most of Land Sold

From 1933 to 1935 the Bay de Noquet company sold 100,000 acres of its holdings to the U. S. Forest Service, which acreage became a part of the Hiawatha National Forest. Within recent years, it disposed of about 20,000 acres of the Mead corporation, which operates pulp and paper mills at Escanaba and Manistique.

Thousands of acres also have been sold to hunting clubs, private individuals, Girl Scouts and other organizations.

The Bay de Noquet company discontinued the use of the Nahma & Northern railway, north of Nahma Junction, in 1948, leaving only the five-mile line from Nahma to the Soo Line railway junction. Its last remaining tract of timber was along the Lake Superior shore near Grand Marais, from where the logs were hauled by trucks to Nahma. The last of the winter's cut of logs were brought to the sawmill just several days ago.

Boxcar 'Ewen' Preceded Town

DSS&A Railroad Named Community

EWEN—Two generations ago a box car was spotted on a siding here at an unnamed town. The box car belonged to the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic Railroad company. That was in 1888 when the railroad built its track through Ontonagon county.

The story told in Ewen today is that the people in the office of the general superintendent of the railroad at Marquette needed a name for the box car and a name for the place where the box car was spotted.

The story is that a young woman who either was employed or visiting at the office at the time heard of the box car and suggested, on an impulse, that her surname be used to designate the railroad car and its location.

According to this account of the naming of the town her suggestion met with instant approval and the name of the community of Ewen, Michigan, came into being at that instant. Whether she was a Miss Ewen or Mrs. Ewen is not known. That is the whole story.

While information available at the office of R. J. Barry, Marquette, general superintendent of the DSS&A, indicates that this account may not be entirely correct it does at the same time lend some substantiation to the story.

The treasurer of the DSS&A in 1887 was W. A. C. Ewen. He was the only employee of the railway with that name at that time and it is presumed that the town was named for Mr. Ewen.

But still, it is possible that the community was named for some other member of the Ewen family—perhaps a Miss Ewen or a Mrs. Ewen who happened into the office at the time that the need for a town name was being discussed.

The Covington

Low, Wide And Handsome

Rooms Six
Bedrooms Three
Closets Eight
Cubage: House . . . 20,500 ft.
Garage 4,000 ft.

Dimensions . . . 59'x27'

Because of its attractive exterior, "The Covington" would look well in any setting. A combination fieldstone and shingle exterior, as used for the house in the illustration, makes a most appropriate and handsome finish. If a combination finish is used for the exterior, white is the color suggested for the shingles. You can, of course, and with equally attractive results, have an exterior of plain masonry, shingles, or clapboards.

Simple landscaping will be most suitable and most effective for a house of this type. A path of stone slabs blends with the informal architecture of "The Covington" and further enhances the charms of both the house exterior and the grounds around it.

There is just enough roof overhang to protect the front entrance which opens on a small entry hall. You'll appreciate the closet in the back wall of the hall, not only when you have visitors' hats and coats to hang up but also when you want a place to keep your family's stormy weather apparel.

To the right is an open archway leading to the living room. Measuring 15'x14'6", the living room is well lighted by the three windowed bay in the front hall. Be certain to reap the greatest possible decorative benefits from this handsome bay arrangement by placing a knickknack or plant display there and by grouping your furniture so as to make this section the focal point of interest in this part of the room.

Decorative Points
The bay will, of course, have to share decorative honors in the living room with the large fireplace in the back wall of the room. If you want to put that new television set in the living room, you'll find that against the further section of the right wall will make an excellent location. Connected directly with the living room, by an archway in the right wall, the dining room is 12'x8'6" in dimensions. Two windows in the front wall provide ample light and ventilation for this room; place the dining room set where you will reap the greatest benefits from the light and view through these windows.

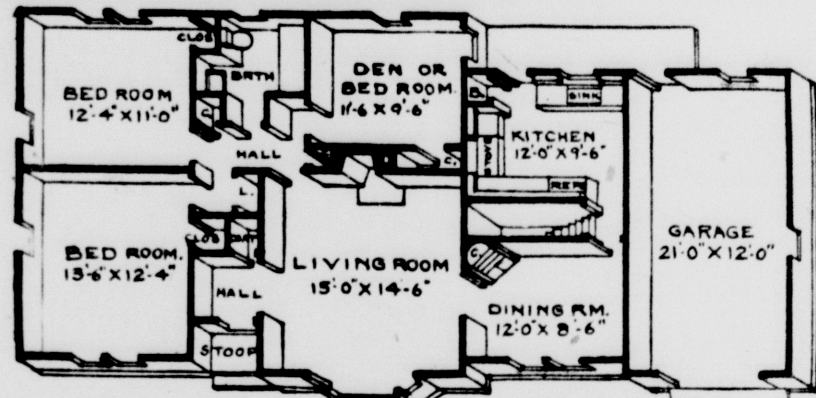

In the left back corner of the room is a very convenient china closet. Drawers at the bottom of this closet and you can use it as a storage place for your clean table linen as well as for your china and glassware.

Stairs to the cellar lead from the small hallway connecting the dining room and the kitchen. Planned as a work center, the 12'x9'6" kitchen is so arranged that you won't waste any steps while performing all those everyday tasks centered around meal-making.

Placed against the right end of the front kitchen wall, the refrigerator is separated from the stove by a long line of working counters, complete with cupboards and cabinets that provide a generous amount of storage space. To the right of the stove which is located against the left wall, is another, and shorter, expanse of counter space.

In the back wall of the kitchen is a doorway opening on the back porch which provides protected entrance to the attached garage as well as easy access to the backyard.

Measuring 21'x12' in area, the garage is amply lighted and ventilated by a window in the back wall and a second window in the right wall. There's good overhead storage space in this garage and, if the handy man wishes to install a workbench he can put it along the back wall under the window where he'll be sure of plenty of light and also of plenty of room.

To reach the sleeping section of this house, it is necessary to go back through the living room. A doorway in the left section of the back wall opens on a hallway connecting with the two bedrooms, the bath and the bedroom or den. With a large closet in its front wall, one window in the right wall and another in the front wall, the den or bedroom is ideally suited to either purpose. The 11'6"x9'6" room can also be used as a guest room. If the room is to be used permanently as a den-library you can transform the closet area into built-in bookshelves.

Generous in size, the bathroom holds both a tub and a shower and receives ample light and ventilation through the one window in the back hall. There's another all-purpose closet opening on this connecting hallway between the door from the bath and the one leading to the back bedroom no problem at all in a house with as many closets as "The Covington."

With two windows in the back wall and one in the left wall, the back bedroom receives good light and cross ventilation. This 12'4"x11' room also has a large clothes closet.

The front or master bedroom measures 13'x12'4" and boasts a generous sized closet as well as good cross ventilation from the two windows in the front wall of the room and the one window in the left wall. Opening off the hallway, directly across from the door to the master bedroom, is the large linen closet. This location is very convenient to all the bedrooms and also to the bath-

Crime Quiz Blocked
By Florida Governor

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Gov. Fuller Warren of Florida appears to have checked the Senate Crime committee in its efforts to question him about crime in his state.

The committee announced that since Warren "refuses to testify under oath" and it didn't want to hear him otherwise, "we have no alternative but to terminate this phase of the matter and pursue it no further."

In Tallahassee, Warren declined to comment.

He had challenged the committee's authority to subpoena him, saying it was attempting to invade states' rights. He had offered, however, to confer with the committee but not as a formal witness.

Legs Flattered By Fancy Stockings

are very much a part of fashion. Willys of Hollywood, a former boxer turned hosiery designer, believes that stockings should flatter women of all ages. He also thinks they should contribute to the harmony of a woman's costume. Contribute something more, that is, than a shade that blends well with black, brown or navy. The sparkling butterflies, the star flowers, forget-me-nots and violets that flutter and twine on hosiery of Willys' design are all strategically placed to accomplish the most in ankle and leg flattery. For the woman who's fifty or more and who has a weight problem, there are stockings designed to slenderize. The stocking with a dark heel and seam does the best job of slimming down a plump leg and ankle. Jeweled decorations and fancy motifs are meant for wear with late-day and evening dresses. For daytime, the dark heel and seam done in many variations, are fashion-right.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Putting on a pair of stockings can be fun. When stockings are something special, when they really do flatter a pretty leg, when they make a woman more attractive, then stockings are fun. Such stockings

Here Are Pointers
On Canning And Freezing Peas

You can take advantage of the plentiful supply of fresh peas for canning and freezing now to add a touch of color and healthful, appetizing flavor to winter meals, says Roberta Hershey, extension food specialist at Michigan State College.

And Miss Hershey has some tips for success in preserving the fresh flavor of peas.

Two of the key points to remember in canning peas is to pack the peas into the jar while they're hot and leave a full inch of space at the top of the jar. The latter suggestion is made because peas expand more than other vegetables.

The first step is to shell and wash the peas, of course. Then cover with water and bring them to a boil. Before sealing, add one-half teaspoon of salt to pint jars and a teaspoon of salt to quart jars.

After adjusting the jar lids, process in a pressure canner at 10 pounds pressure for 40 minutes. If you process three or four pints in a pressure saucepan rather than using the pressure canner, you still use 10 pounds pressure but increase the time to 60 minutes.

Miss Hershey adds a note of caution in using a pressure saucepan—she says to use them for canning only if they are equipped with a pressure control device.

After taking the jars from the canner, complete the sealing job if you aren't using the self-sealing type of lid.

Three varieties are suitable for freezing. They are Thomas Lexington, Onieda, and Shasta. Some of the other varieties may not be suitable for use in freezing, she points out. Cull out over-ripe or immature peas. You'll get the best quality and flavor if you keep the time from harvest to freezing to a minimum.

In preparing peas for the freezer, place enough for one package in a square piece of cheesecloth. Blanch in a gallon of boiling water for one and a half minutes.

Then cool immediately in running or ice water, pack in bags that are vapor and moisture proof, leaving space for expansion, and quick freeze immediately.

County Board Meets July 30

To Make Plans For Special Election

Plans for a special county election to increase millage and levy a tax for hospital operation will be made at a special meeting of the Schoolcraft county board of supervisors Monday evening, July 30, it is announced by G. Leslie Bouschor, county clerk.

The meeting will be held at the court house, starting at 8 p. m.

A decision to hold such an election was made at the last regular county board session, held June 25, at which time a rate increase of one and one-half mills was tentatively approved.

This rate would raise approximately $14,000 annually, believed to be enough to offset the yearly operating loss of the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital.

The board at its June meeting also set September 17 as the tentative date for the special election.

Thompson Creek Is Popular Fishing Spot For City Youngsters

Approximately 50 youngsters, under 16 years of age, most of them from Manistique, are taking advantage of the special juvenile fishing privileges granted at Thompson creek, it is reported.

As many as 25 youngsters at a time have fished the fast-flowing little stream between the Thompson fish hatchery and Lake Michigan. Most of the fishing activity, however, is concentrated along the creek near the US-2 bridge.

Children have made some good catches, too, it is reported. One Manistique boy recently pulled a 17-inch speckled trout from the stream. Brook trout in the stream are about 50 percent native and 50 percent planted. Some particularly large trout have been planted in the creek by hatchery officials who, along with members of the Schoolcraft County Sportsmen's club, are encouraging youngsters to make use of the stream.

Thompson creek was posted for juvenile fishing about three years ago as a result of action taken by the sportsman's club. A large sign near the highway bridge announces the fact that the stream is reserved for children.

Adults, of course, can still legally fish the stream, and occasionally an adult angler insists on this legal right, despite the reservation. Most grown-ups, however, have stayed away from the stream leaving it for children to enjoy.

Thompson creek, which originates in the swamp between Manistique and Thompson, is one of the few streams in Schoolcraft

Local fans have a full program of sports this weekend, with variety of unusual scope. . . . The weekend opens with a Little League baseball doubleheader today, finals in the 11th district American Legion Junior baseball tournament this afternoon at Gladstone, the King and His Court tonight at Memorial field, Little League all-star vs. St. Joe game Sunday afternoon and the regularly scheduled Tri-County and Bay de Noc league games tomorrow.

Paul Baldwin, Escanaba Cub center fielder, was the victim of an unfortunate accident which kept him out of action in the tournament opener yesterday against Menominee. . . . In pre-game practice, Baldwin was struck on the nose by a fly ball. . . . An examination by a doctor proved the nose to be broken. . . . Baldwin's place in center was filled by Bob Sendenburgh.

The win over Menominee in the tournament opener was especially sweet for Coach Al Ness' Cubs. . . . It marked the first meeting of the teams this season and it was the first defeat suffered by Menominee at the hands of a Waubesa league team this year. . . . Menominee had the services of second baseman Jerry Josephson, who had been declared ineligible by state officials. . . . Wednesday they reversed the decision. . . . Josephson lives in Menominee but attends school in Marinette.

The 12th district American Legion junior tournament at Bessemer this weekend is being run on a different schedule than the one at Gladstone. . . . At Bessemer, the four teams will be playing a single-elimination tourney. . . . One loss and a team is out. . . . At Gladstone it requires two losses to eliminate a team. . . . Tournament officials had their choice of the two systems.

Winner of the tournaments at Bessemer and Gladstone will clash at Escanaba for the Upper Peninsula (fifth zone) championship next weekend. . . . The finals will be held Friday and Saturday at the city diamond. . . . The U. P. champion will then travel to Iron River early in August to compete with the four other Michigan zone champions in the state tourney. . . . The national finals will be held in Detroit.

Tigers Uncover Marlin Stuart

Former Reliever Wins Over Bosox

DETROIT.—(P)—Marlin Stuart, baseball's latest rag to riches kid, can forget about toiling as a relief pitcher for a while. He has earned starting spots.

Stuart, a 32-year-old right-hander whose hair is nearly gray, will become a regular starter for Detroit Tigers—thanks to his astounding 6-1 win over the first place Boston Red Sox last night.

It was astounding because:

First Start
1—Stu, hitherto a relief pitcher, hadn't started a game this season.

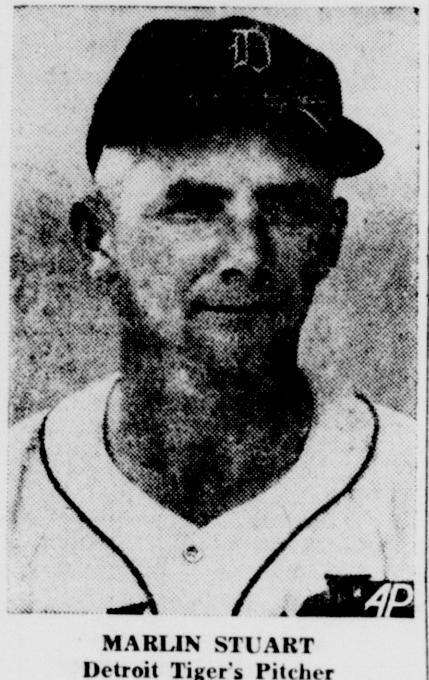

2—Stu, who for three years has shuffled back and forth between the Tigers and minor leagues, had never hurled a complete game in the major leagues. In previous seasons he had started three games.

It was the first time in four weeks the sagging Tigers had snared two victories in a row.

And 45,653 fans liked seeing an unknown like Stuart bop the mighty Bosox, who managed to hang onto first place by two percentage points only because second place Chicago also lost.

Stuart, a six foot two inch native of Paragould, Ark., grinned in a pleased but modest way as he received backslaps and congratulations for his six-hit performance (three were infield scratch hits).

At Toledo
In May Stuart was shipped off to Toledo in the American Association.

tion. But he was recalled three days later when Tiger officials discovered they had used up the three options allowed on him under baseball law.

He started pitching for St. Joseph in the old Michigan State league in 1941 and reached the Tigers in 1949 when he had a 0-2 record. He started two games that year and was sent down to Toledo during the season.

Last year he carved a 9-3 mark with Toledo and joined the Tigers in mid-season. His Detroit record was 3-1.

Berry Stars
Stuart ended the 16-game consecutive hitting streak of Boston's Clyde Vollmer, who struck out once and grounded out three times.

Stuart was the only Tiger to go hitless. Seven of the 11 Detroit hits of loser Chuck Stobbs, Ellis Kinder, and Walt Masterson came

Harnie Red Sox Exhibition Set

Will Play Liberty Loans Of Iron Mt.

The Harnischfeger Red Sox will take on the Iron Mountain Liberty Loans Sunday night at 8:30 at Memorial field. An attractive preliminary game will be offered at 7:15.

The two feature opponents were scheduled to meet last Sunday but the weatherman interfered. Both clubs are leading their respective leagues.

The last time these two teams met was last year in the U. P. tournament in which the Harnies came out on top.

The visitors will use Tedeschi on the mound with Coby Izzo at third, Polkinnhorn in center field, Berdner in left, Croci at second, Menghini behind the plate, Barby in right, Vanness at first and Paoli at short.

John Pierpon or Steve Vugrin will open against Iron Mountain with Mickey Kutchenberg, Keith Morin, Ted Olson, Tom Dufour, Lloyd Fazer, Dick Freeman, Chuck Peltier, Howard Rusha, Doe Poquette and Kip Derouin seeing action.

Ticket stubs held from last Sunday will be honored at the gate, it was announced.

Trucks, Cain Named Next Tiger Pitchers

DETROIT.—(P)—Virgil Trucks and Bob Cain were Manager Red Rolfe's choices to try to stretch the Detroit Tigers' longest win streak in four weeks.

Trucks (4-2) was scheduled to pitch today against Boston's Ray Scarborough (6-4). Rolfe said he tentatively planned to start Cain in Sunday's series finale. A capacity crowd of approximately 50,000 is expected Sunday.

The Tigers have now won two in a row, something they hadn't accomplished since beating Philadelphia 9-3 and Washington 7-3 June 21-22.

in the fourth inning and produced five runs.

Neil Berry, starting his second game in a row as shortstop Johnny Lipon's replacement, batted two singles and drove in a pair of runs. He again played errorless ball.

Batting, Bob Avila, Indians, doubled home winning run with two-out in 10th to give Cleveland 1-0 victory over Philadelphia.

Rain today threatened to postpone the finals of the 11th district American Legion Junior baseball tournament at Gladstone.

Escanaba Cubs moved into the favorite's spot yesterday in the openers by defeating Menominee 4-3 in the morning and Gladstone 15-4 in the evening.

First of the final games this morning between Gladstone and Menominee, was cancelled by wet grounds. If possible, the game will be played this afternoon. The winner will meet Escanaba in the championship game tomorrow.

Cubs Lead Early
Coach Al Ness' Cubs jumped off to nine runs in the first inning and were never threatened yesterday. The Cubs collected 17 hits for 15 runs while Tip Larman and Dick Cass limited the host Gladstone club to four hits.

In the afternoon game Menominee rallied to defeat Munising 3-2 in 10 innings. It was the second defeat for Munising, eliminating that team from the tourney.

Late Rally
Munising took a 1-0 lead in the fourth and added another in the seventh which was matched by Menominee. The State-Liners then came back in the last of the ninth to knot the count at 2-2 when George Everard tripled and scored on a double by Chuck Morrison, Menominee hurler.

In the 10th, Wayne Ewald walked, DeDamos fanned, Josephson walked and Ken Hofer, who had replaced Wickstrom in right field, singled in Ewald with the winning run.

Cleveland Club Buys Minneapolis In AA

CLEVELAND.—(P)—The Cleveland Indians bought the Indianapolis club in the Class AAA American Association and explained it today as a step in building a pennant-winning farm system.

Ellis Ryan, Indians president, noted that the tribe has never owned a club rated better than Class A. It owns Wilkes-Barre, Pa., in the Class A Eastern league, and Bakersfield, Calif., in the Class C California State league and has working agreements with 11 others.

Actually the tribe will have little control over Indianapolis until the end of the year since a working agreement between the Indiana club and the Pittsburgh Pirates does not end until then.

Bears Host To Bark River In Exhibition On Tuesday

Away from home tomorrow for a Tri-County league tilt at Wilson, the Escanaba Bears will return for an exhibition game with Bark River Tuesday afternoon at the city diamond.

The Bears will be facing Bark River for the third time Tuesday. In two previous meetings, both in league play, the Bears turned in wins by 8-2 and 19-2 scores.

Bark River is currently holding down second place in the league, with the Bears at the top of the standings.

At Stephenson Wednesday
The Bears will continue their exhibition swing through the circuit Wednesday night when they travel to Stephenson for a game under the lights at Sawbridge field.

Thursday night the Bears measured Hermansville 4-3 in an exhibition here, with Jack Beck turning in a three-hit mound victory.

Manager Phil Brazeau has not announced his pitching choices for the weekend. He has Mel Karkainen and Beck on the regular staff but may have to dig down for a third man next week.

NEW YORK.—(P)—Leo Durocher has signed a one-year contract to manage the New York Giants again in 1952. Next year will be Durocher's fourth full season as Giant skipper.

Need Microscope To Find Leader In American Loop

By RALPH RODEN
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

.005.
That insignificant figure is the difference between first and fourth place in the sizzling American league pennant race today.

The Boston Red Sox lead the jam session by two percentage points. The Chicago White Sox are second, the New York Yankees third and the Cleveland Indians fourth.

Here's the situation in a nut shell:

	W	L	Pct	GB
Boston	52	35	.598
Chicago	53	36	.596
New York	50	34	.595	1/2
Cleveland	51	35	.593	1/2

Both Sox Lose

The race tightened up considerably last night as both the White Sox and Red Sox lost while the Yanks and Indians won squeakers.

Boston dropped a 6-1 decision to the Detroit Tigers while the White Sox lost a 2-1 ten-inning battle to the Washington Senators. The Yanks edged the St. Louis Browns, 1-0, and the Indians nipped the Philadelphia Athletics, 1-0, in ten innings.

Meanwhile, the Brooklyn Dodgers retained their eight-game lead in the National league. The Dodgers defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-2, as the New York Giants trounced the Cincinnati Reds, 11-5, the Philadelphia Phils knocked off the Chicago Cubs, 4-3, in 11 innings and the Boston Braves humbled the Pittsburgh Pirates, 11-6.

Lack One Out
Chicago was one out away from regaining first place. The White Sox led, 1-0, going into the ninth and Lou Kretlow retired the first two hitters. Ed Yost singled and Gil Coan whacked a double, his fourth hit of the game, to tie the score. The Senators, beaten ten straight times by Chicago, won out in the tenth on singles by Mickey Vernon, Sam Mele and Cass Michaels' run-scoring ground out.

Young Tom Morgan won a brilliant pitching duel from little Ned Garver, Brownie ace, at St. Louis. Morgan permitted three singles while Garver was tapped for six hits.

The Browns' largest crowd of the season, 15,242 fans, witnessed the well pitched game. The Yanks broke a scoreless tie in the eighth. Morgan started the rally with a single. Phil Rizzuto singled Morgan to second and the rookie righthander scored two outs later on a single by Bobby Brown.

Avila Wins Another
In the pitching gem at Cleveland, hustling Bob Avila doubled Dale Mitchell home from first base with two out in the tenth. It was the second game in a row Avila has won. Thursday he scored from first on a single to beat the Red Sox in 11 innings.

Sam Zoldak, former Indian, and Mike Garcia battled all the way. Zoldak allowed eight hits while Garcia checked Philadelphia on four.

Lefty Preacher Roe turned in his 13th victory as the Dodgers made it seven straight over the Cardinals before 30,683 at Brooklyn.

Home runs by Enos Slaughter and Wally Westlake accounted for all of St. Louis' runs. Roe now has thrown 20 home run balls, tops in the majors.

Mays Homers

Home runs by Willie Mays and Sal Yvars featured the Giants' victory over the Reds. Mays drove in four runs, three on a home run in the eighth inning. Yvars connected with one on in seventh. The triumph moved the Giants into second place eight games behind the Dodgers and one ahead of the Cards.

Boston also piled up an early lead in smearing the Pirates. The Braves hacked Vern Law for six runs in the first inning and added three more in the second. Ralph Kiner smashed a 390 foot homer for Pittsburgh's first run in the fourth inning. The belt was Kiner's 24th, four behind Brooklyn's Gil Hodges who tops the field with 28.

Steel Dispute Idles Furnaces

Jones And Laughlin
Fires Banked

PITTSBURGH—(P)—Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation banked its five big blast furnaces at its nearby Aliquippa plant today in the wake of an unauthorized strike of some 3,000 employees.

The company said the shutdown will idle about 12,000 production workers and require several days to regain maximum production after the dispute is settled.

Officers of Local 1211, CIO United Steel Workers, said the strike was in protest over dismissal of an employee who the company said was found sleeping on the job.

Doctors In Britain Call For Higher Pay

LONDON—(P)—The Labor government received notice recently that all 20,000 doctors in Britain's socialized health service will pull out Sept. 25 unless they get arbitration of their demands for higher pay.

The British Medical Association delivered the ultimatum to health minister Hilary A. Marquand after BMA committees from all counties had conferred for seven hours in London.

Pay negotiations have been going on for months between the health ministry and the physicians' group, but the doctors contend they have been getting nowhere.

At present the physicians get a fixed rate of $2.50 a year per patient and are allowed to sign up to 4,000 patients. They claim they have to work around the clock to make ends meet.

The average income of the 20,000 doctors who signed up under the National Health Service is estimated between $3,000 and $6,000 a year. The average British worker earns about $873 a year.

Government Spurs Output Of Manganese

WASHINGTON—(P)—A five-year plan of developing domestic manganese production is being launched by the government to help meet the needs of the defense-vital steel industry.

In announcing the plan yesterday, the general services administration said it will buy manganese ore from miners at three depots it is setting up at Butte and Phillipsburg, Mont., and Deming, N. M.

Most of the nation's current supply of manganese—used in hardening steel—has been imported, often from Iron-Curtain countries, because known domestic ores are of relatively poor quality.

Koreans Sentenced As Spies In Japan

TOKYO—(P)—Fifteen Koreans and two Japanese, convicted Friday of conspiracy to commit espionage, were sentenced today to prison terms ranging from one to 10 years.

They were sentenced by an allied international provost court, after a trial which began last May 11. Twenty-eight other defendants will be tried soon.

The 17 were convicted on 41 of 44 counts that included acts detrimental to the occupation of Japan. Sentences of five of the Koreans included orders that they be deported after their imprisonment.

The dispatch said a Red Chinese mission which visited the Dalai Lama in Yatung this week was expected to precede the young ruler to his capital, which he left when his country was invaded by the Communists.

Trial Of AP Writer In Prague Shows No Evidence Of Spying

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON — (P) — The full record of the trial and conviction of Associated Press Correspondent William N. Oatis in Communist Czechoslovakia has been received by the state department from American Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs in Prague.

Department officials said today that it showed no evidence of what any government in the world outside the iron curtain would call espionage. Oatis, who was arrested April 23, was sentenced July 4 to 10 years imprisonment on a charge of spying.

Only Doing His Job
The Oatis case is unique among trials of foreigners in the Communist countries, department experts said, because the record shows so clearly that the defendant was judged guilty of doing the administration suffered stinging defeats.

Among other things, the House torpedoed Mr. Truman's repeated pleas for livestock slaughtering quotas; denied him authority to acquire and operate defense plants or create new government corporations; refused him powers to license business or regulate commodity speculation; banned the import of foreign fats and oils for two years; refused to consider farm subsidies, and slapped down a request for a new formula for figuring farm parity.

Lawmakers Groggily
As finally written, the House bill eases credit controls over installment buying of automobiles, household appliances and furniture, and raises rent ceilings 20 per cent above the figure of 1947.

These were the principal actions taken when the lawmakers staggered groggily from the House chamber at 12:20 a. m. (EST) after voting final passage, 323 to 92.

The concluding vote came after the House defeated, 299 to 117, a motion by Rep. Cole (R-Kans.) to send the bill back to committee for further study.

On passage, only 16 Democrats and 76 Republicans voted against the measure.

Forest Fire Sweeps
Hoodooed Tillamook
Burn Area In Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore. — (P) — A forest fire spurted out of control in the jinxed Tillamook burn area 35 miles west of here today. The fire burned with such fury that it created twister-like winds that toppled nearby snags.

Foresters feared the blaze, which broke out yesterday, was a continuation of the jinx cycle that has struck the area every six years since the first great fire charred 270,000 acres of timber in 1933. The last of the big fires claimed 110,000 acres in 1945.

Friday night fire Warden Ed Schroeder estimated that 500 acres were ablaze and said the fire was racing in all directions at an undetermined speed.

That was a solid 15 per cent gain over the previous record high of $43,800,387,575.90 in wartime fiscal 1945; 32 per cent above the $38,957,131,768 collected in fiscal 1950.

Individual income tax collections reached an unprecedented $26,302,461,995.91 in 1951, running 25 per cent above the previous record of $20,997,780,699 set in 1948. In fiscal 1950, personal income tax collections totaled $19,574,747,452.

Corporation income and profits taxes jumped to $14,358,670,915.48 from $10,824,351,108 last year, but fell short of the $16,027,212,826 peak reached in fiscal 1945.

Miscellaneous internal revenue chiefly from excise (sales) taxes, pushed to a new high of $9,488,584,621.95, compared with $8,304,897,891.63 in fiscal 1950.

Some of the larger contributors and their totals for 1951 and 1950 fiscal years included Illinois—$4,313,227,234 in 1951 and $3,396,892,658 in 1950; Michigan—$4,131,989,530 and $2,747,570,685; Pennsylvania—$3,880,132,291 and $2,964,381,617.

Loan Granted Spain To Improve Railroads

WASHINGTON — (P) — Two days after the state department disclosed the United States is negotiating with Spain for naval and air bases, the U. S. granted Spain a $7,500,000 loan for railway improvement.

This raised to about $30,500,000 credits granted Spain out of a $62,500,000 special appropriation made by Congress. But officials of the government's export-import bank said none of the money has actually been spent or paid out.

The new credit bears three per cent interest payable each six months, and is to be paid off in 25 years.

Slick Peddler Sells Front-Leg Hams

LANSING — (P) — The State Agriculture Department today warned butchers and meat retailers against buying "Virginia hams" from a merchant touring the state by truck.

"He has a beat-up truck and a high-powered sales talk," said Miles Nelson of the marketing and enforcement division. "But the hams are off the front leg of the pig and the front leg of the pig isn't ham."

Nelson said the department is trying to track down the traveling salesman to prosecute him for violating Michigan food laws.

Friend Of Family, 34, Accused Of Slaying Chicago Schoolgirl

CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—(P)—A murder charge was filed today against a thrice-married ex-cab driver in the rape-slaying of Janet Clark, 17.

The warrant signed by the Champaign county state's attorney, charges "Andrew Parmer, commonly called Pete Parmer, fatally stabbed the high school senior yesterday. Parmer was a friend of the girl's father. He formerly was a Champaign taxi driver."

Parmer, 37, was taken before Police Magistrate Virgil W. Burgess, accompanied by his father, Andrew Parmer, Sr., and an attorney. Parmer's father asked Burgess to delay the preliminary hearing 10 days "until we find out more about this."

Judge Burgess set the hearing for July 30. Parmer was taken to the county jail.

Parmer's third wife, Lennie, was vacationing in Michigan with their two children, a boy around 3½ years old and a girl aged two years. Earlier, police reported Parmer had a teen-aged daughter by a former marriage. They later said he had no children by his two previous marriages.

One Dead, 35 Injured In Dust Explosion On Chicago's South Side

CHICAGO—(P) — One fireman was killed, 12 injured and 23 other persons hurt in a dust explosion and fire which destroyed four south side stores yesterday.

The dead fireman was Edwin F. Paulsen, 34, father of five children. He was killed and two other firemen seriously injured when the blast hurled them from the roof of the burning two-story building and buried them beneath debris.

The cause of the extra alarm fire in the 4700 block in south Ashland Avenue, a busy shopping center, was not determined. Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan said the explosion was caused by a dust accumulation between walls and a false ceiling in a second floor American Legion hall. He estimated damage at $100,000.

Killing Of Ruler May Revive Old Palestine Scrap

noted that it was "temporarily forbidden" for newspaper correspondents to go to Jordan, which always has had one of the tightest censorship in the Middle East.

Reports reaching Cairo from Jordan's capital of Amman have attributed King Abdullah's death to a follower of the exiled Mufti of Jerusalem. Arab league informants said the Mufti, Haj Amin El Hussein, was in Cairo.

The tiny, 69-year-old Abdullah was shot by an Arab yesterday noon as he entered the Mosque of Omar in the Arab-held old city here to pray at the tomb of his father. The mosque marks the spot from which the Prophet Mohammed is said to have ascended to heaven on his white horse. Abdullah claimed direct descent from the prophet.

Friend Of Britain
An official announcement identified the assassin, who was shot down immediately by the king's bodyguards, as a 21-year-old Jerusalem Moslem tailor named Mustapha Shukry Ashsho. The Arab news agency said he was a member of the sabotage squad of an underground terrorist group called the "Sacred Struggle Organization."

Abdullah, staunch friend of Britain was counted on by the west to maintain some semblance of order in the Middle East. Britain and the United States also hoped, through him, to obtain final peace in the Arab-Jewish quarrel over Palestine. The effect his death will have on these aims is being studied.
